Keymap, Approach, Massone

N 45° 55.736'
EO 10° 54.173'

How to find the crag:

Drive from Arco in the direction of Trento. About 300 metres after you have passed the bridge a road to the right is signposted MASSONE, S. MARTINO. Follow that road to Massone. After a short tunnel turn left in the direction of FALECIA POLICROMURA and BRAILIA-BE-DRENA. In the following T-junction, turn right. You will find the first car park 2 km after you have left Arco at your left side on this small road, and further into the olive field you will find a small boulder crag 50 metres from the car park. Continue to the first hairpin and you will find a second car park. To get to the last, overhanging part of this crag, continue and pass tree hairpin bends. After about 200 metres, park on the left side, follow the road ahead until you find a small road that turns into the wood on your left. Take that road, take the big track down to the left to reach the crag. Massone is a beautiful crag, easy to access and perfect for anyone, including families. The magic big cave is impressive, for old as for children.

How to find the crag:

From South ( Riva del Garda). Drive trough Arco, just before the road turns to the right over a bridge a smaller road leads straight ahead down to a car park. From this car park it is easy to view the crags, and a good place to have as a meeting point. It is near to the Arco old city, with climbing stores, restaurants and shops. Masi di Prabi is two smaller crags in an boulder area near the Camping where you will find a indoor boulder wall. Park at the car park between the Camping and a bar. Continue on the small road about 200-300 metres. On your left is a restaurant CALIFORNIA. Take the road in the direction of the restaurant car park, turn left on the track and after about 50 metres you will find crag 3.2.

To find Sport Roccia (3.3.), continue to the right and towards Colodri Est. This crag has sport routes on a small part of Colodri Est. To reach the multi pitch routes on Colodri Est, take the same approach.

How to find the crag:

From the Camping. Drive on the main road in the direction of Riva del Garda. In the town, turn right in a crossroad after a Tennis court, Via C. Battisti. Continue and drive straight forward, you will pass a park (to your left), Parco Arciducale, and some old parts of Arco, Porta Stranforio. The small road will lead you up to Via Crusis (one way road). At a cross, just by a small Chapel, turn left in the direction of 408, Mandre, S. Giovanni. Park after 800 meters, where the small road changes from asphalt to cement. Continue 30 metres and turn left and follow a track signposted 408, Mandre, S. Giovanni. At the crest, turn right and after 15 metres you will find yourself standing under a power line mast. Continue straight forward (don't take the track that leads to the left or to the right). A small track that could be easy to miss leads you to the crag after 100 metres.

How to find the crag:

Drive from Arco in the direction of Nago. About 150 metres before you reach the T-junction (Arco, Nago, Torbole) you will find a big car park on your right. The car park is a sight seeing point with benches and table.

To reach the main crag (10.1.) cross the road from the car park. Follow a track that sometimes is a "stone waterfall". It is easy to get lost, but the crag is just about 100 metres from the car park.

This crag offers nice climbing with a beautiful view over Lago di Garda. To reach the small crag (10.2.) Follow the road in the direction of Nago, cross the road after 50 metres and you will find a track. Follow the track into the thicket, near the crag, and after 20 metres you will find the routes.

How to find the crag:

Drive from Arco in the direction of Nago. In the T-junction (Arco, Nago, Torbole), turn right in the direction of Torbole. After 200 metres, after a hairpin, you will find a big car park on your right. Walk down the road 40 metres and turn right, on to a track signposted Marmite del Gigante. When you reach a cross, take right to reach the big pothole, take left and walk down to a beautiful meadow where you will find the rest of the routes. The bar at the opposite side of the road from the car park has nice sandwiches.

How to find the crag:

Drive from Arco to Nago. In the T-junction (Arco, Torbole, Mori), drive straight over the main road and into the village Nago. turn left and soon you pass a car park. Turn right and find your way through the village.

Look out for a signpost, Strada del monte Baldo. Depending on which part you want to go to, drive to the car park on the south side of the crag and park on a big car park by a Ranch or drive. Alternative, drive on the road signposted chiesetta alpini Casina and park by the road in a hairpin where you see the upper part of this magnificent crag. In both cases, take the track about 100 metres to reach the crag.

This is one of the crags in the area that offers very good climbing.

How to find the crag:

Drive from Arco to Nago. Turn left in the T-junction in the direction of Mori and Roverto. When you reach Passo S. Giovanni you will find a car park in front of the Hotel and also one at the opposite side of the road.

About 50 metres to the right from the Hotel a cycle and walk road leads down in the valley. Follow that and then turn left on a track to reach this area.

This is a perfect place for families, and you will find more than 100 boulder problems and rock climbing in a beautiful surroundings.

How to find the crag:
 Drive from Arco to Mori. In the village, turn right in the direction of Besagno. Pass Besagno and park by the side of the road 70 metres after you have passed the cross where a road turns right to Castione. Take the track that leads into the wood where a signpost declare that climbers climb without any responsibilities for the land owner. To the right you will find 14.2.

How to find the crag:

Drive from Arco in the direction of Mori. You will reach this two small crags if you take left in the direction of the old part of Mori. The climbing isn't the best and you could put off this crag if you are visiting Arco for a short period. From friends we have information about a very nice boulder area north of Santuario di Monte Albano, marked on the map.

How to find the crag:

Drive from Arco in the direction of Sarche. Park on a small road that turns left at the outskirts of Pietramurata in an industry block. The small road is located 500 metres before the bridge. Walk to the house placed just before the bridge and follow the small road that turns in on the left side of the house (straight forward though). You will pass an old industry, C. MUSSI, and 500 metres after you have passed the house you will find a track to the left. Follow that to reach the crag.

Keymap, Approach, San Siro

How to find the crag:

Drive from Dro to Lasino. In Lasino, turn left on one of the small roads in the direction of Pergolese, Sarche and the Chapel San Siro. In the second hairpin after you have passed the Chapel you will find a big car park.

Walk down some steps to find the right track, turn right in the T-junction and after 150 metres you will reach the right part of San Siro crag.

You can also continue with the car to a car park further down, easy to find because of a big notice board covering tracks and climbing in the area.

A superb crag, a lot of nice climbing and easy access also for families.

How to find the crag:

Drive from Trebi in the direction of Cavedine. With a nice view over the lake this crag offer some nice routes.

Park at the right side of the road on a big lay bay. Continue about 300 metres and turn right just after a stone wall. It could be hard to see a track but you will see the crag behind the wood from the road.

Keymap, Approach, Marciaga

How to find the crag:

Drive from Arco in the direction of Garda. Garda is a touristic village with a lot of shopping, restaurants and bars. The whole area is crowded during the spring, summer and autumn. If you are flying from Milano it is a good crag to drive to at the last day so that the highroad ain't to far away. This area offers a lot of easy climbing on slab or vertical crag. Drive from Garda to Marciaga, continue and turn right in the T-junction. Park at the car park near the Madonna del Soccorso and walk to the crag (10-15 minutes).

Keymap, Approach, Stallavena

How to find the crag:

Drive from Stallavena in the direction of Alcenago, Vigo. After about 1 km, in the T-junction, continue through the hairpin in the direction of the Church. Park at the car park outside the cemetery. Walk back to the first hairpin and continue straight forward on the track by the power line. Walk down between the crags, turn right if you are going to climb any of the routes 1 to 50, to the left for the rest. A nice crag, a lot of easy climbing. During weekends, when Arco is crowded, a trip to Stallavena could be an opportunity to experience a less touristic part of the area.
